

New Directions in Behavioral Health

Learn about new services and programs in Douglas County, KS!

Monday, May 6

5:30-7 p.m.

Lawrence Public Library auditorium
707 Vermont Street

Program will include a brief overview, panel discussion, and question-and-answer session.

Moderator: Bob Tryanski, Director of Behavioral Health Projects for Douglas County

Panelists: Derrick Hurst, LMH Health; Ashley Countryman, DCCCA; Bill Reilly and Mathew Faulk, Bert Nash Community Mental Health Center; Stacey Cooper, Heartland Regional Alcohol & Drug Assessment Center; Karin Denes-Collar, Heartland Community Health Center; and Shannon Oury, Lawrence-Douglas County Housing Authority

 Event is free and open to the anyone. Light refreshments.*

DID YOU KNOW? During the past year, Douglas County funding has helped to:

- add 5 psychiatrists in our community.
- add social detox services that can be accessed regardless of gender or insurance status.
- provide a team of behavioral health specialists, medical staff and peers who can provide wrap-around services in the LMH Health emergency room.

